Fleet is blessed, bayou dock crowded

by JAKE JACOB

Dressed overall from stem to stern, moonraker housing to dolphin striker, the vessels of Hancock County's fishing fleet, came home from the fishing grounds Saturday to sail in grand review through the reaches of Bayou Caddy at the annual Blessing of the Fleet.

Reverend Kenneth Brown of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Pearlport, delivered the blessing, wishing the boats a bountiful harvest and safe return from their labors.

Approximately 1000 people spread themselves throughout and along the bayou's marina, slips, breakwaters, and seawall, to witness the blessing, conducted under the joint auspices of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, and the Gulf Coast Fisherman's Association.

The Marie G., a shrimp trawler owned by Fritz and Joyce Garcia was judged the best decorated vessel, followed closely by second place winner Mary Jane, owned by Sherman Neacase, and the Delta Dawn, owned by Bill Bernos.

Judges for the event were C.M. Curet of Kiln, Carl Buller of Pearlport, and Becky Markel of Waveland.

P.D. (Sonny) Bailey, president,

Hancock Chamber of Commerce, said the turnout was the greatest he had seen since the chamber became involved with the activity some years back.

About 30 shrimp boats came in for the occasion and the yacht M.V. Tarpon, owned by J.C. Koenen of Diamondhead provided quarters for officials and guests. Skipper of the Tarpon for the day was Russell Elliott of Bay St. Louis.

Others on hand included the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, mayor and commissioners of Bay St. Louis, and representatives from the City of Waveland.

Dockmaster was Captain Max Berns, USN (Ret.) manager, chamber of commerce, with Bailey serving as emcee.

State funding sought for NC refurbishment

by JAKE JACOB

County Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph delivered an application for construction funding to the State Education Finance Commission on Monday in the hopes of his obtaining sufficient monies to renovate Hancock North Central High School and provide new rest room facilities to the gymnasium at Gulfview School, Lakeshore. Randolph refused to comment on the success or failure of his Jackson mission on Tuesday but close observers to the school board scene judged he had met with favorable response.

He said that any decision made by the SFC would not be made known until after their next board session, scheduled for June 23.

The issue followed hot on the heels of a series of protests concerning the north county educational facility by a parent whose child was to enter the school for the first time in fall.

She said the sanitary conditions at HNC are deplorable and unless she could be assured by the board that corrective measures will be undertaken prior to school reopening her complaints would go to "Jackson."

The board had previously voted to hold over acceptance of non-certified personnel on the basis they first wanted a clarification of job descriptions and lines of authority, particularly at HNC.

HISTORIC SITE SURVEY—Greg Free (L), historian from the Department of Archives and History in Jackson, and Danny Taylor, senior architect student of LSU's School of Architecture, discuss plans for a historic site survey currently being conducted in Pass Christian by the Mississippi Department of Archives and History. Here, Free and Taylor talk of the restoration plans at the Cook-Short family home at 524 St. Louis Street in the Pass. The home was built in approximately 1850 by free Blacks and the home has been occupied and owned by the descendants through the years. The men praised the restoring of the home by the families and noted many of the original parts of the house were still available for the restoration work. (ECHO Photo by Jerry Whittle)

The Bay-Pass area recorded its ninth drowning victim of the year last weekend when a 14 year-old Pass Christian boy lost his life in the Mississippi Sound.

The latest drowning took the life of Cedric V. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Parker of 403 Dawn Avenue in Pass Christian. A coroner's inquest ruled the youth died as a result of accidental drowning while on a swimming outing some 200 yards east of the Pass Christian Yacht Club.

According to reports, Harrison County Coroner Ed Little, Jr. said the drowning occurred Sunday shortly after 4 p.m. and the youth's body was recovered at the scene at 5:35 p.m.

The youth was a student at Pass Christian Middle School.

Funeral services will be held today at 4:30 p.m. from the First Missionary Baptist Church of Pass Christian, followed by burial in the Baptist Cemetery.

'Pogey boat' net cut dumps catch, industry apologizes, ok's clean-up

by JAKE JACOB

A torn net was the reported cause of a menhaden fish spill which started to wash ashore at Clermont Harbor late

Tuesday afternoon.

By Wednesday noon the fish were reported from the Lakeshore Road at Bayou Caddy, eastward to Sears Avenue in Waveland.

Waveland authorities stated they had reported the spill to the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission (MMCC) for investigation.

Vernon Niven, manager, Sea Coast Products, Moss Point, one of three companies operating menhaden fishing (pogey) boats in this area, informed of the spill yesterday took immediate action within the industry to determine which boat was responsible for the spill, its extent, and what clean-up operations would be required.

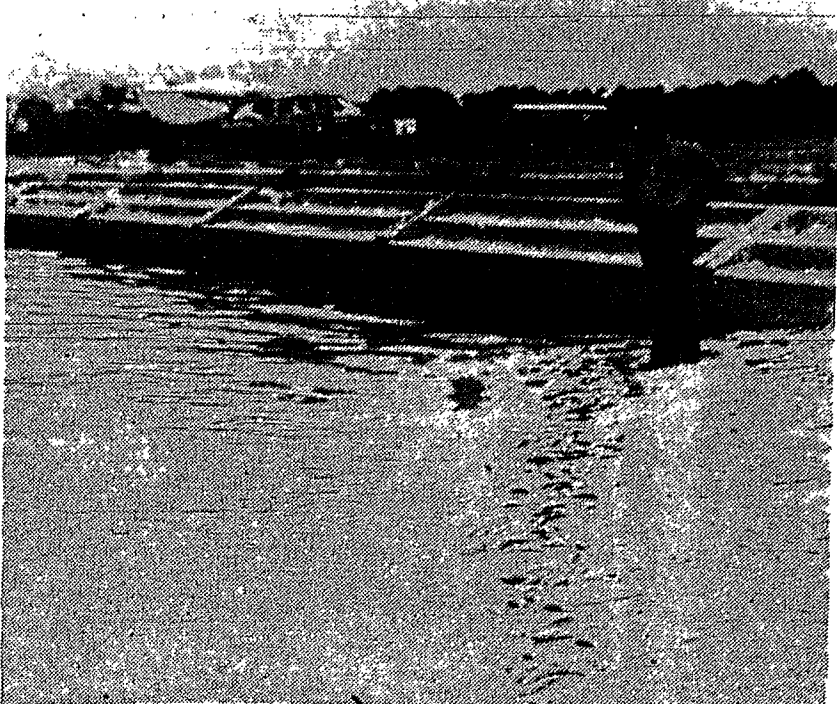

The other two companies are Standard Products, and Zapata-Hayne Corporation, both also being located in Moss Point.

FHA approves over $1 billion in loans during past 4½ years

NEWS STATEMENT BY J. F. BARBOUR, III, STATE DIRECTOR, FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION
The Farmers Home Administration has approved over $1 billion in loans and grants in Mississippi in the past 4½ years. This was announced by J. F. Barbour, III, State Director of the federal rural credit agency.

Barbour said the 4½ year period coincided with his term as State Director. Agriculture played the major role in FmHA activities during this period. Over 21,000 farm loans for $512 million were approved, including 7,600 disaster loans. Farmers eligible for disaster assistance suffered a production loss because of adverse weather conditions.

Other major loan and grant areas for FmHA were Rural Housing, 17,000 loans for nearly $295 million; Community Programs, $132 million for water, sewer, and other facilities, and Business and Industry, $61 million.

Barbour also praised the local FmHA office saying, "Kenneth Lee and his staff have been conducting an excellent program and we are pleased with the efforts they have been making to serve the people of Hancock County." Our local office has 758 borrowers whose total debt to the FmHA exceeds $11.9 million. This includes 644 families who have been assisted in obtaining safe and sanitary housing.

In fiscal year 1976 the Hancock County Office provided $917,480 in financial assistance to the people of Hancock County.

The staff in the local office includes James L. Bowen, Assistant County Supervisor, Margaret C. Prevon, County Office Assistant, Hedy R.

Chiniche, County Office Clerk and June Acker, CETA employee. The local advisory committee is made up of Paul Harrel, Tommy Shaw and Virgil Stockstill.

Harvill outdoors

By Donald Harvill

All of our local waters are looking real well. The rivers and bayous are clear and the salt-water is moving up into the rivers. I believe this should be one of the best years for salt-water fishing that we've had in the past few years. But that depends upon whether the weather holds out or not.

There have been some real good catches of speckled trout off the beach out front this past week. There were a few fish caught on artificial baits, but the big catches are being caught on live bait.

PEARLINGTON: The whole Pearl River system is looking real good. We had a pretty good weekend, there have been a good many bream caught on crickets and red worms. The salt-water fish are moving into the river. We had the Iron Jaw Bass Club in this past Sunday, there were 12 boats with a total of 24 men. They caught a total of about 75 or 80 pounds of fish. The best fishing this week should be in the late afternoon with a falling tide. The fishing should be good this week. (Mr. Roy Baxter, Pearl River Marina)

JOE'S BAYOU: They were catching specks and reds at the old well this past weekend. There also have been specks and reds caught at the end of the sea-wall and at Grassy Point. Most all fish are being caught on live bait. We have plenty of live bait, rental skiffs and we open at 5:00 a.m. (Mrs. Cospelich, Joe's Bayou Marina)

ANSLEY: There have been very good catches of specks around Half-Moon Island, Grassy Island and all along the shoreline of Heron Bay. We have live bait and rental skiffs. We open every morning at 5:00 a.m. (Mrs. Hall, LaFrances Fishing Camp)

All you hunters don't just let your gun sit on the rack, take it out and practice with it. You want to make sure that your shooting skills haven't become dulled from a long lazy summer of just fishing.

Until next week: May your cast be straight.

JAMES HARVILL, SR. of Waveland, is both an avid fisherman and a hunter. This past weekend he caught 7 red-fish, the smallest being 9 lbs., the rest were between 22 and 30 lbs. His two largest reds took first and third place at the Biloxi Kiwanis Fishing Rodeo. The second place fish was caught by Ellis Cuevas of the Bay while he was fishing with Harvill.

Sportsfishermen out-numbered commercial at Biloxi hearing

BY DONALD HARVILL

A show of hands revealed the fact that commercial fishermen were greatly outnumbered by sportfishermen at a public hearing held Monday in Biloxi.

The hearing was called in order for commercial fishermen to give evidence to members of the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission that would support a petition that they have put forth in order to try to persuade the commission to eradicate an ordinance that was adopted on May 2. This ordinance restricts commercial fishermen from using trammel nets, gill nets and various other modern fish catching devices within one-mile of public and private piers and of the barrier islands. These nets have been looked down upon by sportfishermen for years; because it is believed that they are one of the major causes for the depletion of many species of sportfish along the Gulf Coast.

The hearing lasted approximately 90 minutes. During that time, speakers supporting both the commercial and the sportfishing interest took the podium, were supposed to speak in giving their personal opinion as well as evidence supporting their interest in the matter. Members of the commission acted as a jury, taking notes and asking the speakers various questions pertaining to the information that they had given.

Several participants that would have attended the hearing, didn't because of the shrimp season.

Student development tops aims of athletic program

This week a member of the Hancock County School Board, Woodrow Ladner, introduced a motion that may change the attitude of that system to its athletic program.

The emphasis of the motion is on a shift to participation and development of skills more than on actual winning.

In part, the motion states: "It will be understood by each coach that every boy or girl must be given equal opportunity to participate in any sport of their choice - that emphasis be placed on participation and skill development rather than win, especially in elementary and junior high level."

On a national level coaches seem to be coming enmeshed in an increasing number of decisions to cope with this very topic.

Too, with the increased awareness of the role of women in sports, school coaches are faced with additional dilemmas - not caused in most instances by any intentional slighting of females, but by the additional numbers of people becoming involved in the athletic program, and in many cases, reduced budgets.

According to Elinor Nickerson, director of women's athletics, Sam Ramon Valley High School, Danville, California, in an article entitled "What Title IX means to me," published in the March '77 issue of Scholastic Coach Magazine, Title IX says, simply: "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance...."

"Obviously," Ms. Nickerson says, "it refers to all students - boys and girls. It doesn't say, 'You cannot leave girls out of any program in the classroom or after school even if your beliefs or your training or your traditions or your society say these things aren't good for girls.'"

It appears Board Member Woodrow Ladner had much the same thing in mind when he presented his motion for the concurrence of his contemporaries.

Not, as said, in particular reference to girls, but to all the students of the county school system.

Ladner has often expressed the thought that at least to him it appears too few are selected into the ranks of the chosen, possibly at the expense of the rest of the students.

Boiled into a condensation of fact Ladner is asking his system's coaching staff to veer sharply away from confirming the oft heard cliché at North Central, that the way of the athlete is the way of the "chosen few" within the educational facility, almost to the total exclusion of those of high school age to whom distance of domicile prevents "frequent and-or lengthy overstay" after school hours.

Too, he asks, that selected students in elementary and junior high school not be earmarked for athletic glory throughout their entire school career and singled out for other than earned privileges.

While calling for the coaches to schedule and present money-making athletic events, Ladner is also calling for a greater emphasis of participation in such activities by all the students who so desire, regardless of sex, race, or place of actual residence, and regardless of their ability to excel.

It is not the intent of this missive to point fingers, or attempt to delve into particular instances.

It is however an attempt to call attention to the worth and intent of the Ladner motion.

Whittlin' with Whittle

Time once again to sit down and peck out another column, which more and more folks tell us they like most of the things we step on the soapbox to voice an opinion on each week. We thank you. And we might stress "most".

Most of this week's comments appear to be on the good side, so we'll start off with a good comment. "I believe that love is the greatest thing in the world; that it alone can overcome hate; that right can and will triumph over might." John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

With the world filled with "bad" news, it's always nice to find people who are still concerned to do "good" things and help their neighbor when a time of need arises. We were told of just such an act last week by a caller from Waveland. A lady called to tell us about Olga Delaup, 169 Market, who had performed a kindness for her neighbors. A brush fire had threatened a couple's home near her house and she had been very busy helping to keep the fire away from the neighbor's house. The caller reported the couple lived in New Orleans and we would suspect they knew nothing of the danger of fire to their home in Waveland. Roses and a big tip of the hat to our "Neighbor of the Week". Do you know of someone such as Olga Delaup? If so, write us - we'll be glad to mention their kindness in print.

It was so great to hear of the circus activities at the library and the great amount of participation. A library can be only as great as those who are interested and make use of the facilities.

A salute to the Little Theatre crew and an encouragement for you and yours to attend their upcoming production of "Fiddler on the Roof". Dates and times are in today's issue. Don't let the talents and efforts of this great group go by unnoticed or unattended.

Dear Mr. Whittle
Thank you very much for your kindness and consideration in printing the notice of my WWII Battalion Reunion. I'm sure it will help our effort. The article was exactly as I had given to you.

I can assure you that we and our family, will continue to be a subscriber to the Echo and I will certainly always speak kindly of your assistance in my behalf.

Dear Editor

During the past several years I have become increasingly aware of the lack of initiative taken by some of the pier owners. Those who have not chosen to rebuild their piers and have instead selected to let them remain as is, have willfully decided to not partake in improving and upgrading the appearance of the beaches.

The aesthetic nature of the shoreline is marred by the remnants of past natural disasters. The pylons that remain standing have no economic or environmental significance. Ergo, the property owners, city or individual must take it upon themselves to either rebuild the piers or remove the pylons, and I recommend they do so in order to enhance the beauty of our beach front.

We're sure you have noticed the mysterious "lips" ads that have been running for several weeks. Very few days have gone by that we have not had inquiries as to what they are. A few guesses we thought you might be interested in...Jimmy Carter?...Billy Carter?...a dental meeting?...The ad department has kept us in the dark all along and we couldn't tell anyone what the "lips" were. But it did remind us of an old Dave Gardner record we once heard...In a small town, one day, there appeared a sign company that installed a large billboard at the entrance to the town. All the sign said was, "It's Coming!". Two weeks later, the people were back, torn down the sign and put up another which read, "It's Going to be Here!". Two weeks passed and another sign appeared, "Look For It!". Two weeks and a final sign, "It's Come!". We can assure you that's not the case with the "lips".

We have hashed and hashed the water problem on Hwy. 90 near the Pass, but just to call off the rain to keep the water from building up on the highway is a little far to go fellows!

Another problem we touched on a number of times was the crooked lights at the end of the Bay Bridge. They have finally been straightened out. But if you think they were crooked, you should have seen the traffic light at the Pass on 90. One of the lights to the yacht club was turned around so it was facing traffic on 90 and from a distance it appeared as if there were four traffic lights in the east bound lane. Sure was funny to drive up and see three reds and one green. Things are back to normal now...we hope.

Sure was nice to see all the flags for Flag Day.

Have a nice day!

The emphasis, the Ladner motion states, must be on student participation over the necessity to win, with each student being given an equal opportunity to participate in the athletic program.

"This," Woodrow Ladner said, "especially at the elementary and junior high school levels."

He said it was his aim to broaden the athletic program base to touch and involve as many children as possible.

"It will be understood by each coach that every boy or girl must be given an equal opportunity to participate in any sport of their choice - that emphasis be placed on participation and skill development rather than win, especially in elementary and junior high level," Ladner's motion reads.

Survey

A good historic preservation plan generally identifies structures and areas of architectural and historic significance worthy of preservation, outlines policies and goals for achieving their preservation and recommends methods for accomplishing these objectives. The buildings that conform to the pre-established criteria of the National Register of Historic Places will be nominated for entry into the Register. The National Register was expanded under the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 to include properties of local and statewide significance, as well as those of national importance.

After the survey is completed historic districts will be established to unify the belief that old neighborhoods should not be wantonly thrown away, but cared for with feeling. The plan provides a means for integrating the preservation of historic resources with the processes of growth and change by indicating how new development can take place so it is compatible with the historic character of the area. Maps will be given to the city showing Pass Christian pre-Camille and the structures Pass Christian has today. The Mayor's Advisory Committee for Historic Preservation hopes to put these findings in a publication so everyone can read, learn, and enjoy Pass Christian's heritage.

Historic Preservation can help strengthen the sense of community which distinguishes small towns by drawing on the resources of local leadership. Maintenance of existing residential neighborhoods reduces the pressure on outward expansion helping to stabilize a city's tax base and provide round-the-clock life for downtown areas. After the survey is completed, what many people have known for a long time will be reinforced - that Pass Christian is a community of gracious architecture that should be preserved, a spokesman said.

Blessing

Strong, president and vice president respectively, Gulf Coast Fishermen's Association, represented that group. Hulzhauser, last year's best decorated boat winner with his vessel John Mavar, this year captured an honorable mention.

Leading the parade of boats was the state boat and water safety commission vessel, followed by a unit from the state marine conservation commission.

'Pogey' boat

After stopping at Stennis International Airport to pick-up Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge, Niven and his passenger flew over the entire area to determine the extent of the spill and its effect on the local coastline. Courge, in whose boat all the fish seem to be concentrated, will be responsible for cleaning up the beach with the menhaden industry picking up the tab.

Niven estimated the original spill at some 300,000 fish upon return from the aerial observations.

"There are fortunately less than a third of this number, under 100,000 on or approaching the beaches, with the balance in or close to the marsh to the west of Bayou Caddy," he said.

Buccaneer State Park's beaches received considerable wash-in of fish and its new superintendent, Greg Smith, said tourists were expressing concern as to whether or not poison or other pollutants in the water were responsible for the kill.

Niven said the torn net was reported to the company concerned.

"When the boat makes a set the net is carried around the school of menhaden. The net is then pursed, or drawn tightly into itself to permit the fish to be pumped into the boat."

"If the net has snagged on something like underwater debris, or if a shark conducts an attack on the school while the net is being pursed, the result in either case will be a torn net."

"When this happens the fish will spill out."

"It is possible for such an eventuality to not be noticed by those on the catch boat."

"Menhaden fish normally swim in close schools but the net action of drawing them even closer together cuts off much of their oxygen and they are either dead or 'very groggy' prior to being moved inboard."

"Thus the spilled (or escaped) fish could stay down until after the catch boat has left the area and the crew be unaware of the incident."

"The boat moves away from the zone of set once it has completed its job as the fish will not school in the same area for some time," Niven explained.

The menhaden industry produces about 10,000 gallons of high graded fish oil from each million fish, with an estimated 500 million fish caught in a good year.

The industry's biggest item however is fishmeal, a product extensively utilized by chicken growers.

Extremely conservation conscious Niven's company, Sea Coast Products, alone owns some 200,000 acres of marshlands on which any form of development is prohibited.

"We are aware the marsh is the start of the food cycle for sea life. As farmers of the sea we want to harvest our crops using good conservation practices, while encouraging and preserving the food source," Niven allowed.

CHAPMAN REGATTA — Gulfport Yacht Club will host the annual Mississippi Coast Yachting Association CHAPMAN REGATTA June 18 and 19. This is a team racing series in which each of the Mississippi Coast Yacht Clubs enters four Flying Scots in each of the four races. It is one of the most popular regattas on the coast because it brings together so many members from the neighboring clubs who enjoy the keen competition for the coast championship.

The Chapman Regatta had its beginning back in 1951 when Henry Chapman of Bay-Waveland Yacht Club and Wallace Chapman of Biloxi Yacht Club, each a past commodore and president of Gulf Yachting Association, donated to the newly formed Mississippi Coast Yachting Association a perpetual trophy in memory of their father, Will J. Chapman, and two brothers, Will and Alfred Chapman, who had been ardent sailing and yachting enthusiasts for many years on the Mississippi Coast. This became known as the Chapman Trophy and is sailed for each year by the Mississippi Coast Clubs to determine the champion club for that year.

Henry and Wallace Chapman and their children took part in the Chapman Regatta from its beginning, and each year there have been several members participating in the competition.

Cruel hoax continues

The rumor that by saving computer labels from items purchased in the grocery store you can purchase time on a kidney machine for a needy patient is untrue according to Tom Pace, Executive Director of the Kidney Foundation of Mississippi. "We have been getting inquiries from all over the state about this and it simply is not true. These coupons, as far as the Kidney Foundation is concerned, are worthless."

"There have been many rumors in the past that by saving tea bags, pull tabs from soft drinks and even cigarette packs you would be helping a kidney patient. All these rumors are untrue and they are very harmful to the fight against kidney disease in Mississippi and all over the country. People spend weeks, months and sometimes even years saving these things in the hope they are helping someone. When they find out that they are of no value these well meaning people are turned off. They don't want to help do anything else. This is the biggest tragedy because with Mississippi having the highest death rate, per capita, from kidney disease the Kidney Foundation needs all

May petro taxes show increase

Petroleum tax receipts for May increased 6.14 percent over April collections, according to the Mississippi motor vehicle comptroller.

Comptroller Jamie Howell reported total collections for the month were 12.6 million dollars. April receipts amounted to 11.9 million dollars.

May, 1977 collections were also up from receipts of May a year ago when the total was 11.9 million dollars. "For the period May, 1976 through May, 1977, collections were 138.73 million dollars," said Howell. "Receipts for the corresponding 12-month period were 132.33 million dollars."

Disbursements for the May collections include payments to the Highway Department, highway bond sinking fund, and other agencies specified by law.

LECTURE SERIES

Earthquakes, the microwave oven, the energy crisis and the concept of hydrogen as a replacement for gasoline have a common bond at the University of Mississippi. These, and about 40 additional topics, are being offered through a lecture program sponsored by the UM School of Engineering and including speakers from chemical, civil, electrical, geological and mechanical engineering as well as the mathematics department. The free speakers service is available to general audiences at high schools, junior colleges and civic and professional clubs.

Dr. Frank Anderson, chairman of chemical engineering at Ole Miss, is program coordinator.

Buccaneer Crew Notes

BY LEIGH KOHNKE

A fun-filled weekend began on Friday afternoon when June Dearman from the county library entertained children with a story hour. In addition to two films which were shown, Les Parker, 13, presented a circus puppet show in the Rec-hall. Later in the evening campers gathered on the beach for a bonfire get-together.

Saturday began with a bike race through the park for the children. First place was taken by Carroll Glindmeyer, 11 of Pass Christian followed by Joan Mancuso, 11 of Gretna.

For the adults a shuffleboard match was held Saturday night. Betty and Richard Ferrier of Chalmette claimed first place, with Martha and Sheila Quentin of New Orleans placing second.

Our recreation directors conducted a guided tour through the nature trail Sunday afternoon. The trail, which was built by the Youth Conservation Corps during the Summer of 1976 under the leadership of Mike Cave, abounds with many interesting plant and animal species. Andrew Jackson camped in the location with his troops in preparation for the Battle of New Orleans in 1814. The trail has been given Jackson's nickname of "Old Hickory." Everyone is invited to use and enjoy the trail which is located in the East side of the park.

This week story hour will be Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. in the Rec-hall. "The Bridge of Adam Rush" will be featured. The public is invited to participate.

Webb named MPA Manager

Walter W. Webb of Houston was named manager of the Mississippi Press Association today by the Board of Governors.

He succeeds George Lemon Sugg, who served the association as manager for 39 years until his retirement in January 1976. Sugg continues to serve the MPA on a consulting basis.

Evelyn Traylor will continue as office manager, the board said. Webb, a native of Louisville, worked as advertising manager and managing editor of the Times Post in Houston for 14 months.

He will assume the position immediately and will work from the new headquarters of the MPA in the First Magnolia Federal Building in Jackson.

He will be a full-time manager of the association, the Board said, and will carry out an expansion of programs provided by the 110-year old association.

Griffon heads cast of "Fiddler on the Roof"

By MIKE CUEVAS

Dan Griffin, as Tevye, will headline a cast of 30 people who will act, sing and dance into your soul during the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre production of "Fiddler on the Roof" June 22-25 at the playhouse on Boardman Avenue.

Griffon is the moving force playing the role which Zero Mostel made famous on Broadway. Having quite some experience as Tevye after playing the role in the University of Southern Mississippi production, and his physical characteristics will enhance the role to becoming a character that will be remembered for many seasons to come. His conversations with God are particularly effective bring humor, a father's love and the value of Jewish traditions to the forefront.

Appearing in the role of Tevye's wife, Golde, is Sandy Scharp. Mrs. Scharp has undertaken a very important role for her stage debut and during rehearsal's has shown to be quite capable in handling a challenge. Mrs. Scharp has a beautiful voice which in several songs will bring chills. She and Griffon have several duets and the blend of their voices is beautifully moving.

Lynn Stechmann, Helene Giles, and Kathy Koch appear as three of Tevye's five daughters and their scene during the "Matchmaker"

melody is exceptionally good. Appearing as the future husbands to these daughters are Loren Hover and Mike Hamm. Hover who appeared last season in "1776" has a beautiful voice and for his second he has developed quite a stage presence.

A very special find for the Little Theatre is Louis Burghard. Appearing as Lazar, the butcher, he has developed into a dynamic foil for Tevye and their scenes together, especially, "LaKein" (the tavern scene), are highlights of the show.

Pam Gromberg, choreographer for "Fiddler..." has done some exceptional work with cast members, even those who swear they have two left feet. But the audience will most benefit from her talents when she appears as Fruma Sara in the dream sequence.

Each member of the cast has contributed greatly to the production and each member deserves the accolades they will receive.

Curtain time for the performances will be 8:15 p.m. Admission is $3 per person and tickets will be on sale at the door each night.

Library circus very successful

Ringmaster Grace Rhodes (she also answers as Children's Librarian) reports that the Saturday Circus at the City-County Library was a tremendous triumph. Approximately 150 children came and enjoyed the great spectacular.

In the main ring, students of the Arabesque School of Dance provided an unparalleled exhibit of talent. Those performing were Theresa Morreale Kerri Kingston, Kelli Kingston, Michele Chinicha, Amy Compretta, Jackie Sotak, Pennie Boudin, Connolly Compretta, Patty, Donna, and Nancy Bourgeois, Dee Dee Strong, Tera Breland, Linne Cabel, and Terese and Lisa Holland.

In the side show, June Dearman of the Library staff presented a puppet-theater program, telling the story of Petunius.

The Friends of the Hancock County Library provided free refreshments for all the children, who enjoyed popcorn, cotton candy and soft drinks. The Friends would especially like to thank Gene Monti who worked all morning providing cotton candy.

Please keep reading your newspaper to find out about other events planned to celebrate the summer reading program at your Hancock County Libraries.

YOGURT

Old but new describes yogurt, a dairy product that's becoming more popular day by day. Many Americans think it's a relatively new food, but in the Bible (Genesis 18:8) Abraham prepared a kind of yogurt and it's been commonplace in many countries for years. In India, for example, a salad of chopped onions, cucumbers and tomatoes is served with a dressing of yogurt and lime juice. A favorite dessert in Turkey is plain yogurt sprinkled with powdered sugar. The Greeks make an orange cake using yogurt as one ingredient and the list of uses goes on and on.

Yogurt is basically milk thickened through fermentation. It's a cultured milk product much like sour cream and buttermilk but with also the addition of sugar, fruits and other flavoring ingredients. It's made by inoculating pasteurized milk with two cultures. One culture produces the yogurt flavor while the other regulates the yogurt flavor.

In commercial processing, the inoculated milk is generally subjected to three hours of bacterial growth at about 120 degrees, and the resulting product, yogurt, is then rapidly cooled. Milk composition of yogurt manufacturing generally ranges from 1.5 to 4.0 percent butyrate and from 10 to 14 percent milk solids.

Flavoring of yogurt is what's made it sell so well recently in the U.S. More than 90 percent of the market is now flavored yogurt. One leading company claims it started the flavor mania when it introduced strawberry yogurt in 1946. Since then this company and many others have added many other flavors to yogurt. Strawberry is still the most popular flavor followed by Cherry and Raspberry. Mandarin Orange and Lemon flavored are also good sellers along with those containing other fruits and flavors, such as coffee, etc.

Store yogurt in the refrigerator and use within three to four days for best delicate flavor. If stored longer, the acidity may continue to increase and a sharper-flavored product will result. Do not freeze yogurt; the freezing and thawing will ruin the texture of the yogurt.

The most often asked question about yogurt is about its calorie count. Plain yogurt has only about 15 calories per ounce (or 120 per cup) but the calorie count increases as the various flavors are added. Vanilla or coffee-flavored ones have about 25 calories per ounce while the fruit yogurts have about 250 calories per 8 ounce cup. Check container sizes and calorie counts listed and figure accordingly.

County Agent's report By John Smith

SOIL TEST NOW

Farmers, home gardeners and homeowners are reminded that services of the Extension Soil Testing Laboratory at Mississippi State University are available all year. Now is a good time to test soil in fields used for temporary summer grazing and field peas. For fall seeded crops, growers should take soil samples in July and August. This will allow time to apply the recommended fertilizer before September and October planting dates.

All county Extension Service offices have information and materials for collecting and mailing soil samples.

GARDEN IRRIGATION

Although some areas of Mississippi have received scattered showers, most of the state desperately needs rain. Gardeners forced to irrigate their gardens must do so at proper intervals for best results. One simple way to tell if a garden needs water is to squeeze a handful of soil. If the soil falls apart after you open your hand, it is time to water again. If the soil lumps, it contains adequate moisture. A garden will usually need about one inch of water per week during the growing season.

FORAGE ANALYSIS

In planning a balanced cattle ration, producers should have hay or silage analyzed to determine digestibility, crude protein and amount of fiber. A forage analysis essentially puts a feed tag on homegrown hay and silage, and greatly benefits producers.

The Forage Testing Lab at Mississippi State University provides this service at no cost to the producer. Contact my office for necessary equipment and information sheets for sending in forage samples.

GRASS DISEASES

Grass diseases can spoil the appearance of any home lawn. However, proper lawn care can reduce the change of disease attacking your lawn. One of the simplest ways to maintain a healthy lawn is to water properly. Water grass only when it shows signs of wilting. Water thoroughly, using enough water to soak six to eight inches into the ground. Lightly watering daily only encourages grass to grow shallow and makes it more susceptible to disease and drought.

ENVIRONMENT
June 9, 1977

Hancock County, Mississippi
P.O. Box 152
Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520
Area Code 601 497-5474

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

The above-named County proposes to request the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to release Federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) to be used for the following activities:

1. Senior Citizens Centers - $34,020.00

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and, accordingly, the above-named County has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190).

The reason for such decision not to prepare such Statement is that the scope of the work involved as a result of the activities named above would not be an action which would significantly effect the quality of human environment.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within projects has been made by the above-named County which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required.

This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying, upon request, at the County Courthouse, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M.

No further environmental review of such project is proposed to be conducted prior to the request for release of Federal funds.

All interested agencies, groups and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the County. Such written comments should be received at the address specified above on or before June 24, 1977. All such comments received will be considered and the County will not request the release of Federal funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date specified in the preceding sentence.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

22. Cards of Thank

I wish to thank those who made June 9th such a happy and memorable day for me. The shower of birthday cards and letters and flowers was deeply appreciated during the quiet day at home. In the evening, my family had a small dinner for me, which made a perfect ending to a beautiful day. This was all a total surprise and though not deserved, it truly warmed my heart. I am grateful for so many blessings.

Pilgrimage dates set for 1978 tour

Pilgrimage dates for 1978 new president of the Council, presided.

The Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs in a called meeting Friday, June 10, at the Gulfport Harrison County library. The celebration will be later than usual in 1978 so as not to conflict with Easter holidays. A change in the length of Pilgrimage was voted unanimously by garden club representatives, the feeling being that the change will make for a more successful endeavor.

Instead of one week the 1978 Pilgrimage will extend from March 29 through April 9. The following dates were chosen by Coast cities:

Wednesday, March 29 at Bay-Waveland; Friday March 31 at Diamondhead; Saturday April 1 at Gulf Hills and Southern Pines; Sunday, April 2 at Long Beach; Tuesday April 4 at Pass Christian; Thursday April 6 at Gulfport; Saturday April 8 at Biloxi and Sunday April 9, Gautier, Moss Point and Pascagoula.

Ocean Springs will not participate in the 1978 Pilgrimage. Mrs. Bess Sealey of Gautier will be the Coast Council chairman of the event and she asked each club to mail the name, address and telephone number of its Pilgrimage chairman to her in Gautier.

The Gulf Coast Council has been asked by the state organization of Mississippi garden clubs to host the Deep South Regional Convention in 1980. This is a nine state convention of garden club representatives and will bring a large group to the Coast. Council members voted to extend the invitation and some preliminary organizational work was begun.

Clubs were reminded that a new flower show handbook has just been published and all future flower shows will be held under the new rules and regulations. Mrs. Mary Lucas, a director of flower show practice for the State Garden Clubs Association, will be on the Coast September 1, to review the new handbook for flower show chairman and any others who are interested.

The charge will be $1 per person, the place to be announced later.

Mrs. Elda Duke reported that the Council won the Award of Merit at the Nashville Workshop of Garden Clubs. This is the second year the Council has won the award.

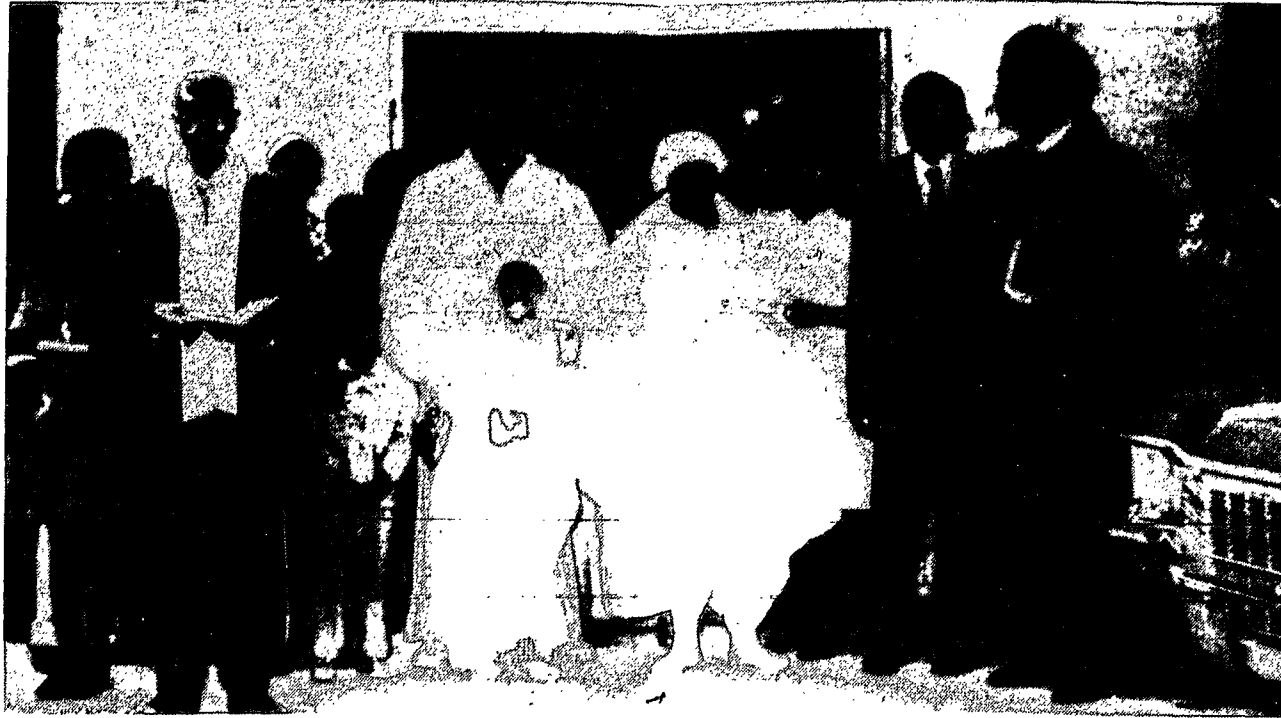

Mrs. William Harvey, the

PARK GUIDE

A summer publication featuring information and drawings of 78 plants growing in Tishomingo State Park at various times of the year has been prepared by Ole Miss biology graduate student Fred Searcy of Pulaski. Supported by the Mississippi Park Commission and the UM Graduate School, the guide is highlighted by the art of Carole Ritchie of Frederick, Md., herbarium technician and Bill Martin, who photographically reduced the drawings for publication. Searcy collected specimens in the park for two years for his master's thesis.

Buccaneer campers discover scouting's treasure

(Fellowship, friends, personal achievement)

by JAKE JACOB

One hundred and fifty girl scouts, and 25 adult leaders, spent last week on a campout at Buccaneer State Park.

In traditional fashion the scouts overcame the limitations imposed by their site selection and, through the application of vision and imagination, were able to qualify proficiency badge strikers, even while complying with park regulations banning open ground fires.

The girls included arts and crafts, sports such as swimming, archery, running, and the like; dancing, singing, games, and camping skills on their busy agenda.

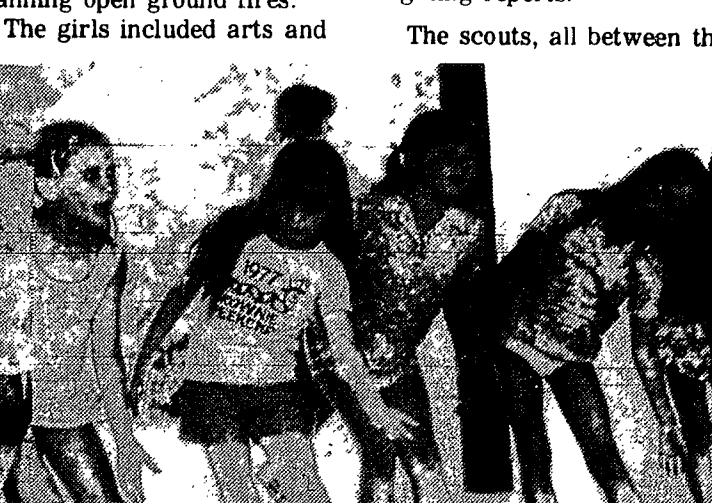

Those of high school age assumed the roles of junior leaders and aided in actual camp administration and operation. All of the girls spent at least one night "under canvas" accompanied by the telling of tall tales and the provision of "actual sasquatch sighting reports."

The scouts, all between the ages of 6-18, came from the Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian Girl Scout neighborhoods, as did the adult leaders.

After learning skits, dance routines, jokes, and so forth, the group staged an open house on their final day, Friday, giving a concert to some 100 parents in attendance.

The concert followed a Court of Awards when the girls who had qualified were awarded their proficiency and skill recognition patches.

Jr. Auxiliary sets fundraising event

Proceeds will go to help sponsor Jr. Auxiliary's various community projects.

So-Sew Club meets with Mrs. Cook

The group's projects for the year were discussed and it was announced the next meeting will be in September. A social hour followed the business session.

Attending were Mesdames Manilla McLaughlin, Dorothy Gates, Laurin Lacoste and Ella Mae Mercer.

What's new at the Library

QUEEN'S ROYAL. By John Quigley.

Played out against a colorful panorama of London and Scotland as the rigidities of Victorian society begin to crumble before the onslaught of a new century and the Boer War, here is the tumultuous story of Fiona Fraser King, the headstrong matriarch of the King clan, and the man who was her match in business and her mentor in love.

His fortune and reputation made, his new blend of scotch, Queen's Royal, named in honor of Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, recognized in turn by the royal patent, Robert King, head of a great scotch whiskey empire and a large, stormy family, has turned his attention to the challenges of parliamentary politics. While Robert pursues the frenetic pleasures of London society and the personal delights of the flamboyant Marlborough House Set, Fiona remains in Scotland, struggling to maintain the family ascendancy in the industry and her own happiness in the face of the chill emptiness which has begun to creep through her life.

At 37 and the height of her opulent beauty and sensuality, Fiona can find no antidote to the loneliness of her isolated existence - until she clashes with her husband's business nemesis, "Black" Douglas Dunbar. Initial hatred turns to grudging respect and finally all-consuming desire for the man who has sworn to destroy King and Company. Locked in a duel of will and wits, Dunbar, in thrall for the first time in his life, must choose between his obsessive hatred for a man and a company and his surging love for the man's wife and the company's directress, while Fiona finds herself caught between old family loyalties and a final chance at love and a life which seems to have passed her by.

Treasure By Robert Daley.

"I never dreamed it would be this hard to find." So said Mel King, the Vero Beach Treasure King. As he spoke, his search for the Spanish galleon Atocha and its priceless cargo of gold and silver, lost somewhere off the spiral, Gypsy is about as far from Dr. Kildare as Serpico is from Sergeant Friday. And the chaotic municipal hospital emergency room is where Gypsy's year of internship begins is more like general mayhem than "General Hospital."

Into the emergency room streams an unending, disorderly procession of winos, derelicts, pimps and prostitutes. Gypsy's task is to keep them breathing, sew them up, and drag them kicking and screaming back to health.

Gypsy plunges into an on-the-job course to learn the things they never taught him in medical school - such as how to take a lifelong medical history from a wino in two minutes flat, how to administer medication to a junkie before he vanishes into the nearest restroom to shoot up, how to avoid being pummeled into unconsciousness by a grateful patient. He also learns how to catnap on treatment tables, and how to gobble cold pizza in the quiet moments between stabbings.

But a funny thing happens to Gypsy on the way to his residency. Exhausted and disheartened, he realizes that there are some things he cannot learn: that he can't injure himself to human suffering, that he won't divorce medicine from morality.

Tender and grim, uproarious and terrifying, The Saturday Night Knife and Gun Club captures perfectly the lunatic reality of a big-city hospital. It's a very funny book. It may also break your heart.

THE HOBBY HORTICULTURE CLASS, taught by volunteer Mrs. Wilma Miller, will be getting together June 28th at Buccaneer Park for a covered dish picnic. All members of the class are urged to participate.

An Orientation and Training Session was held at the RSVP office Friday for the new volunteers to acquaint them with volunteer opportunities, staff and facilities. A film was shown, "What You Do Speaks So Loud." Director Theresa James addressed the volunteers and refreshments were served.

Wonderful world of Pearlington

Mrs. Jeanne Dobie Williams born and raised on the Dobie Plantation south of Pearlinton, located south of the present site of Oak Harbor, was guest speaker on Monday at a session of the Hancock County Historical Society, there.

More than 50 persons crowded into the Pearlington Community Hall to hear Mrs. Williams' talk entitled, The Wonderful World of Pearlington.

Capt. Max Berns, USN (Ret.), president of the society, introduced the speaker. Mrs. Odile Carter gave the invocation. Hostesses were Mrs. Gladys Baxter and Mrs. Forrest Summers.

Mrs. Williams said that two companions from France, arrived at the location of present day Pearlington in 1699, a date that precedes the settlement of New Orleans. While she was a girl growing up on the plantation, Mrs. Dobie said there was a wooden causeway connecting it to the road to town, a causeway that came up through the present Belle Isles Subdivision.

The plantation, which was self-sufficient, grew fruit, vegetables, and cotton, as well as raising cattle, hogs, and other farm animals. It possessed its own slaughterhouse and curing sheds, and marketed its surplus production to the Pearlington area.

Possessing its own fleet of schooners, the plantation also made frequent contact with the twice-daily mail boat which ran from Pearlington to English Lookout and its connection there with the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

Pearlinton in those days was site of a huge lumber mill and the town was the original county seat.

On the far shore of the river were moored flatboats from Louisiana housing saloons and concert halls, all to provide entertainment to the many loggers and timber workers of Pearlington and its sister settlement of Logtown.

vessels had joined the Atocha on the bottom of the sea-all at a personal cost of over two and half million dollars.

Now the best selling author Robert Daley tells the dramatic story of the most extraordinary search for treasure of modern times, a search carried out simultaneously in the dusty archives of Seville and on the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico.

Even as Fisher and his divers beat off shark attacks and storms off Key West, Fisher's historian in Spain, Dr. Eugene Lyon, patiently scoured the original documents for clues.

What had the Atocha looked like, how did it sink, how much treasure had it carried? The documents were worn-eaten, faded, three and a half centuries old. Most important, where did the Atocha's carcass rest now? Year after year Lyon persisted. At last he knew everything about the galleon, and had placed Fisher's boats over the spot where its forty-seven troy tons of treasure ought to lie.

But that treasure, as it rose up dripping from the sea, was greeted by so much tragedy that Fisher and his colleagues began to wonder if the Atocha's gold and silver didn't carry some kind of curse.

With brilliant portraits of gold-obsessed Fisher, scholarly Lyon and hipster diver John Lewis, Treasure is a breathless story of physical and intellectual adventure and of man's lust for gold, which endures through the centuries.

Several Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) members have been recognized by the stations which they serve. The Silver Creek School for the Developmentally Delayed awarded certificates to the following volunteers for 300 hours of service: Mrs. Thelma Berry, Mrs. Rometa Dehner, Mrs. Marie Eichhorn and Mrs. Esther Oschmann. Headstart awarded certificates of recognition to Mrs. Ida Carter and Mrs. Roberta James for the help they gave the children during the past school year. Mrs. Elizabeth Saucier was made an Honorary Citizen of New Orleans for the community service which she has performed there.

The RSVP radio program which is broadcast on the first Sunday morning of each month, courtesy of WPUP, is very interesting. Each month volunteers are featured to tell what each does for RSVP and what RSVP means to him. We invite you to tune in and listen.

RSVP'er Albert Russo will be starting a new class at the Valena C. Jones Center on Monday, June 20th. We will teach participants how to make carpet scraps into useful items such as table protectors. All Senior Citizens are invited to participate.

ASCS reports

CROP ACREAGE REPORTS

In order to provide the Secretary with a full range of options in the event a 1978 set-aside is deemed necessary, 1977 acreages of corn, grain sorghum, barley, wheat, rice, cotton and peanuts will be obtained. Farm program legislation now under consideration provides that if a set-aside is implemented, the acreage required to be set aside as a condition of eligibility for program benefits may be based on a percentage of the acreage planted for harvest in 1977. Under either current or proposed legislation, the 1977 reported acreages will not be used for purposes of establishing allotments.

Who Is to Report: Farm producers of Pearl River and Hancock Counties who have planted these above listed crops are required to report 1977 planted acreage to the county ASCS office.

Time of Reports: Farmers will have until the date, August 1, to report acreage for spring seeded crops. Fall seeded crop acreage must be reported prior to harvesting if possible. Farmers who have already begun or completed harvest should contact their ASCS office immediately.

Failure to Report: Farmers who fail to report 1977-crop of the above listed crops planted acreage will be considered to have no planted acreage and may be ineligible for program benefits in 1978.

Spot Checks: ASCS employees will make spot checks of farms to assure that acreage reports are accurate.

Cattle producers are reminded to register for Beef Referendum.

Notice hereby is given that the Board of Supervisors of Sharkey County, Mississippi, has authorized and invited the submission of bids to lease a full interest in Tracts 1, 2 and 3 above described, in and to the oil, gas and mineral interests in, on and under the above-described lands, and to explore, mine and develop.
Formerly said lands constituted in lieu "school lands" which had been properly selected and set aside in lieu of portions of 16th sections situated in Sharkey County, Mississippi. However, said lands described as Tracts 1 and 4 above hereto were sold and conveyed into private ownership, subject, however, to the exception and reservation of an undivided one-half (1/2) mineral interest in Tract 4 and in and to all oil, gas and minerals therein, and benefit of the educable school children in various townships in Sharkey County, Mississippi.

The Board of Supervisors of Sharkey County, Mississippi, has prescribed the form of the proposed oil, gas and mineral leases covering the above-described tracts, and has prescribed also the royalty to be retained by the lessor, the annual rentals to be paid by the lessee, the primary terms of the proposed leases, and all other provisions of the proposed leases. The only item subject to bid for the proposed leases is the amount of the bonus to be paid by the lessee for each lease. A true copy of the proposed lease form containing all the terms and provisions so prescribed by said Board of Supervisors is on file and available for inspection by any interested person in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Sharkey County at Rolling Fork, Mississippi.

Any person interested in submitting bids for the proposed leases hereby is notified and invited to file a sealed proposal therewith with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors (who is the same person as the Chancery Clerk) of Sharkey County, Mississippi, at his office in Rolling Fork, Mississippi, on or before 9:00 o'clock a.m. on July 5, 1977. Each of the above-described four (4) tracts will be considered separately, and if leased, will be covered by a separate lease. All proposals should specify the amount bid with respect to each such separate tract. Bids may be submitted for less than all tracts.
All such proposals so filed will be opened by said Board of Supervisors at said time or as soon thereafter as is conveniently possible and during a regular monthly meeting of said Board of Supervisors, and thereupon, subject to the approval of the County Superintendent of Education of Sharkey County, Mississippi, said Board of Supervisors will award the proposed lease covering each separate tract to the highest bidder therefor in the manner provided by law. Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and reserves the right to approve leases on some but not all of the above-described tracts.

On the side

By Buddy Stone

The General Radio Service (GRS) in Canada plans to expand the number of channels from the present 22 to 40 channels and at the same time, to specify more stringent technical standards.

In the United States with the big change from 23 channels to 40, the FCC also deleted channel 11 as one reserved for calling to arrange to contact another CB user on another channel. Channel 9 will remain the national emergency channel.

Q - You write that CB channel 9 is to be used for emergency communications. Then why in large cities do I hear REACT giving 10-13's (traffic reports)?

A - Because "communications necessary to render assistance to a motorist" is part of the FCC's emergency designation. Still, the requesting of 10-13's is one of the most frequent abuses heard on the channel. Many CBers use a 10-13 instead of a radio check needlessly tying up ch. 9. In those cases channel 19 is better suited.

Q - I plan on vacationing in the eastern United States this summer. In the process, I will be entering Ontario Canada. Do I need any Canadian permit to take my CB along and use it?

A - A few weeks before you leave, write the Canadian Department of Communications, 55 St. Clair Avenue East, Toronto, Ontario, Canada. They will send you the form which you will return and they will send back a license. Canadian CB permits usually expire the same date as your American CB license.

Q - Are CB's allowed in Mexico?

A - Yes, now you may take along your CB and you don't need any special license.

You've heard about CB clubs set up to patrol against burglars, report drunken drivers, crack down on game poachers, guard school campuses and monitor emergencies in general. But were you aware there's now a new CB association organized solely for the purpose of gathering data on unidentified flying objects.

What the CBers involved hope to do is use their radios to draw immediate attention to sighted UFOs, thus to get verification from several viewers instead of just one or two. There is no lack of UFO reports, they say, just too few sightings that can be confirmed by more than one person.
